PEER REVIEW PLAN
Title:	IRIS TOXICOLOGICAL REVIEW AND SUMMARY DOCUMENTS FOR TRICHLOROACETIC ACID
Purpose/Objective:	EPA is undertaking an update of the Integrated Risk Information System (IRIS) health assessment for Trichloroacetic Acid . The outcome of this project will be an updated Toxicological Review and IRIS Summary of Trichloroacetic Acid that will be entered on the IRIS data base. IRIS is an EPA data base containing Agency scientific positions on potential adverse human health effects that may result from chronic (or lifetime) exposure to chemicals in the environment. IRIS contains chemical-specific summaries of qualitative and quantitative health information in support of two steps of the risk assessment process, i.e., hazard identification and dose-response evaluation. IRIS assessments are used nationally and internationally in combination with specific situational exposure assessment information to evaluate potential public health risks associated with environmental contaminants. The IRIS data base is relied on for the development of risk assessments, site-specific environmental decisions, and rule making.
