

UNIVERSITY FOR SENIORS
University of Minnesota-Duluth Continuing Education
Winter Term

Research at EPA in Duluth: A historical perspective

(January 14 – February 4, 2010)*

Presentation #2 (Thursday January 21 at Noon)

Using Science for Environmental Regulation

Teresa J.

Norberg-King

Scientists have helped apply environmental aquatic toxicology to develop regulations for EPA over many years. This presentation will highlight some historical changes in the aquatic environment and how EPA has used them to develop regulations for the Clean water Act.