Gratuitous Services Agreement

I, Rachael Novak, offer to serve as a peer reviewer for the following work product developed by staff at the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA):

Task 2.63 Tribal Factsheet [insert title of work product]

I hereby expressly agree to provide this service to the EPA without charge or "gratuitously", and understand and agree that no future compensation or claim related to said services will be due or expected. I also understand and agree that by providing this service, I am not an employee of the EPA and will not be considered an EPA employee for any purpose.

I further understand that the EPA's goal is to obtain an independent, objective and unbiased peer review of the work product identified above. I therefore agree to disclose to the EPA any involvement I have had in the development of the work product, either through direct contributions to its development or through significant consultation during its development. I further agree to disclose to the EPA any activities or circumstances that could pose a conflict of interest or create the appearance of impartiality with respect to my provision of this service to the EPA.

This Agreement does not violate the prohibition against "voluntary services" contained in 31 U.S.C. § 1342 in that services furnished pursuant to a formal agreement are not considered voluntary services. 7 Comp. Gen. 810 (1928).
